

AMERICA'S ESSENTIAL HOSPITALS

Richard Rutherford, MD
Medical Director of Quality
Ventura County Medical Center and Santa Paula Hospital
Co-President
Hospital Procedures Consultants

Rutherford graduated with honors from the University of Washington School of Medicine in 2001 and completed a family practice residency at Ventura County Medical Center. He currently works as an attending physician in the department of emergency medicine at Ventura County Medical Center, serves as medical director of quality for Ventura County Medical Center and Santa Paula Hospital, and is co-president of Hospital Procedures Consultants, a national organization dedicated to teaching emergency and hospital providers how to safely perform bedside procedures.

His awards include the Theodore Phillips Award for Excellence in Family Medicine, the Resident Teaching Award from the Society of Teachers of Family Medicine, the Stanislaus Family Practice Residency Outstanding Faculty Award, and the Ventura County Outstanding Resident Teacher Award.